PRIZE COURT IS ASSURED

Last Obstacle to Establishment Removed at The Hague.

Signing of Additional Convention by Our Representatives Paves Way for Tribunal.

The State Department has been advised that the additional prize-court convention was signed at The Hague yesterday by representatives of the United States and other powers concerned. The signing of the additional treaty removes the last obstacle to the establishment of the international prize court, agreed upon at the last Hague conference. Article 3 of the convention stipulated that an appeal might be taken to the prize court from the judgment of the national courts in prize cases.

In view of the fact that this provision was regarded by the United States' delegates as unconstitutional, the United States suggested the negotiation of a supplemental protocol that would enable the United States, and other countries having constitutional difficulties of a similar kind, to ratify the Prize Court Convention, in order that that court might be established. This proposed additional protocol stipulates that in place of the appeal from the decision of a national court, as provided in the original convention, an alternative procedure might be followed by which these prize cases, which have been the subject of an unsatisfactory decision by the national courts, may be submitted to the International Prize Court for a hearing de novo; the judgment of the International Prize Court, in such a case, to take merely the form of an award in damages, the court having no authority to pass upon the validity or nullity of the capture in question, nor to reverse or affirm the decision of the national courts. It was proposed that this protocol shall be ratified at the same time as the Prize Court Convention itself, and the ratifications are to be deposited as soon as possible hereafter at a date to be later fixed.

The countries signatory to the Prize Court Convention, which have indicated their acceptance of the proposed additional protocol, are Germany, Argentina, Republic, Denmark, France, Great Britain, Japan, Norway, Sweden, the Netherlands, Austria-Hungary, Spain, and Chile; Bulgaria, Ecuador, and Salvador have indicated their intention to adhere.

CHARTS ANALYZE FOOD MATERIALS

Department Experts Show
Nutritive Values.

Since the wide-spread discussion of the high cost of living the Department of Agriculture has issued a set of fifteen charts on the composition of food materials. The charts are printed from photolithographs, in six colors, and show, in the case of each material, the protein, fat, carbohydrate, ash, and water contents and the fuel value expressed in calories.

The percentage composition and fuel value are given in figures, and the relative proportion of each constituent is represented graphically. For example, in the case of whole milk, a glass of milk: 87 per cent of the figure is colored green to represent the water content; 2.5 per cent red, to represent the protein; 4 per cent yellow, to represent the fat; 5 per cent blue, to represent the carbohydrates, and 0.7 per cent drab, to represent the ash content.

The food materials shown in the charts are as follows: Whole milk, skim milk, buttermilk, and cream; whole egg, egg (white and yolk), cream cheese, and cottage cheese; lamb chop, pork chop, smoked ham, beefsteak, and dried beef; cod (lean fish), salt cod, oyster, smoked herring, and mackerel (fat fish); olive oil, bacon, beef suet, butter, and lard; corn, wheat, buckwheat, oat, rye, and rice; white bread, whole wheat bread, oat breakfast food (cooked), toasted bread, corn bread, and macaroni; sugar, molasses, stick candy, maple sugar, and honey; parsnip, onion, potato, and celery; string bean (fresh), navy bean (dry), string bean (green), and corn (green); apple, dried fig, strawberry, and banana; grape (edible portion), raisins (edible portion), grape juice (unfermented), canned fruit, and fruit jelly; walnut, chestnut, peanut, peanut butter, and coconut.

Chart 14 gives the functions and uses of food under the headings, "Constituents of Food" and "Uses of Food in the Body." Chart 15 shows the dietary standard for a man in full vigor at moderate muscular work, and the estimated amount of mineral matter required per man per day.

These charts are printed on sheets 21 by 27 inches of a good quality of paper, and are for sale by the superintendent of public documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., at $1 per set. The charts will be found especially useful to instructors and students in classes in physiology, domestic science, and other branches in which the food and nutrition of man is studied, either in schools or colleges, or in clubs or similar organizations.

EXONERATED SECOND TIME.

Vice Consul in Colombia Cleared Again of Attacking Natives.

William B. McMaster, vice and deputy consul at Cartagena, has been exonerated for the second time of all responsibility for assaulting two natives about a year and a half ago. Arthur H. Frazer, charge d'affaires of the legation at Bogota, advised the State Department yesterday that the trial judge had reaffirmed the original decision, placing the blame upon the natives who attacked the vice consul.

About eighteen months ago McMaster became involved in an altercation with two natives who attacked him. He succeeded in driving them away, but was seriously wounded.

CHILDREN'S HOMES VISITED

Health Officers Begin Work Against Infant Disease.

Board of Education Sanctions Dr. Woodward's New Order—School Changes Are Proposed.

Health Officer Woodward yesterday ordered his inspectors to visit houses where there have been cases of infantile paralysis. Children who have been exposed will be prohibited from going to school for two weeks.

He announced there would be no change in the new health regulation.

The board of education has given its approval of the plan to prevent further spreading of the disease, and every doctor in the city who thinks it is contagious agrees with him. So far no parents have registered protests against the new regulation.

If the recommendation of the high school committee is sanctioned by the board of education, high school hours will be lengthened by thirty minutes. It is proposed to change the closing hour from 3:30 to 3 o'clock. The board also will hear a suggestion from Supt. Stuart that Spanish be taught in the high schools.

Three Persian princes—Serf Eddin Khan, aged twelve; Mossafer Eddin Khan, aged fifteen, and Mohammed Ameen Kalin, aged sixteen—were entered in the public schools yesterday. They hardly knew a word of English, but they are certified in the Henry D. Cook School, Seventeenth street and Columbia road. The young Persians are living at the home of the secretary of the Persian Legation. They were assigned to the second grade.

LEAVES ASYLUM ON WRIT.

Edwin Frank, Who Escaped and Wed. Fights for Liberty.

Claiming that he is not insane and never has been, Edwin Frank, an inmate of the Government Hospital for the Insane, recently escaped and married Miss Virginia Strouse, yesterday obtained from Chief Justice Claiborne a writ of habeas corpus.

Frank also claims that his term of service from the army terminated July 15 by an honorable discharge, and that he is no longer amenable to military authority. Chief Justice Claiborne directed Dr. White, superintendent of the asylum, to have Frank in court on Tuesday, and to show cause why he should not be released.

NATIONAL LAW SCHOOL.

Forty-second Annual Opening Scheduled for Next Saturday.

The forty-second annual opening of the National University Law School will take place Saturday evening, October 1, at 6:30 o'clock, at the law school building, 815-20 Thirteenth street northwest, at which time the faculty and students will meet, announcements will be made, and the organization of the classes immediately proceeded with. The old faculty is continued unimpaired and there have been added to the large and distinguished corps of instructors previously engaged in work in the institution, Associate Justice Robb, of the District Court of Appeals, who will preside over the appellate meet court and will assist Prof. Kelgwin in instruction upon appellate practice. Associate Justice Barnard, of the District Supreme Court, who will occupy the chair on equity jurisprudence, and Associate Justice Anderson, of the District Supreme Court, who will lecture to the freshmen class upon domestic relations. A considerable sum has been spent on the interior decorations of the lecture halls and in improving the facilities of the building. It is reported by Dean Carus that the lengthening of the term of hours and amount of work required for the degrees has had no deterrent effect upon the size of the classes which promise to again tax the capacity of the school to the utmost.
